

Welcome to this information pack on in:turn:

I hope you enjoy reading the information provided. The information does not answer every question or supply every detail of your year with us. For that, we don't apologise... Instead, we would rather hear from you, meet you and discuss what it is you are interested in and, to some extent, tailor-make your year for you with you. That means we can't give you all the answers till you come and talk to us!

There will, of course, be a basic expectation of the time you commit to the course and certain course elements, such as shared times of worship, discussion and teaching, as well as mentoring, study, reflection and your involvement in church, that are a given. But how those elements are defined for you will vary from how they are defined for anyone else. Each ministry is different, each minister is different...You are unique. We want you to get the most from your year, so will work with you to ensure that how you contribute, how you reflect and study, how you are involved is tailor-made to suit you so that you can gain the most you can. This course may at times be demanding, personally, spiritually and socially, but it will also carry rewards and gains that wouldn't happen without the challenge. I hope, too, that it will be a fun, enjoyable and life-changing year of living.

So if you are interested in in:turn and how your year might work then please complete the application form and return it to me. Once I have received your form then I'll discuss it with Steve, Mark and Andrew (the clergy team from the two churches) and we'll invite you to come and meet us, see the church(es) and discuss the way forward to your year as an intern with us. If you do have questions that need to be answered before you come and visit, then please email me on revamandabruce@bluebottle.com.

With every blessing,

Revd Amanda Bruce
Curate, St Mark's Haydock.
